

Do you have Dance teaching experience? Use it to get a Dance teaching qualification.

As the professional world changes, getting a recognised, accredited qualification is becoming increasingly more important.

At Dance Factory, we offer professional accreditation for a variety of dance industry-related skills and experience. No further study or training is required and the cost is a substantial saving over the fees for a full course.

We have both the staff and the means to assess your skills critically and get the qualification that you have earned.
